DETAILED ACTION

-This office action is in response to the amendment filed on 8/6/04. In this amendment, claims 1-29 have been canceled, and claims 30-31 have been added. Therefore, claims 30, 31 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 30, 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Peter et al. (US Patent 6,572,682).

Regarding claim 30, Peter discloses an exhaust emission control method comprising passing exhaust through a particulate filter from an upstream side thereof to a downstream side thereof to trap exhaust particulate in said particulate filter, after passage through said particulate filter passing said exhaust along a catalyst downstream of said particulate filter, regenerating said particulate filter by combusting said trapped particulate and producing a combustion product from said combustion of said trapped particulate, using said combustion product to assist regeneration of said downstream catalyst, wherein said exhaust is diesel engine exhaust, and said particulate filter is a diesel particulate filter trapping diesel exhaust particulate, including soot, said downstream catalyst is an NOx adsorber (see col. 3, lines 57-65, col. 4, lines 36-40, col. 9, lines 32-37, 47-49), said NOx adsorber comprises an NOx storage element and an NOx catalyst, said NOx storage element is consisting of alkaline earth compounds such as barium oxide (see col. 9, lines 44-46), said combustion product is CO, and comprising providing said downstream NOx adsorber in sufficiently close proximity to said diesel particulate filter to carry out a thermodynamic favorable reaction with said CO, and regenerating said downstream NOx adsorber with said CO derived from said diesel particulate filter (see col. 9, lines 32-37); however, Peter fails to specifically disclose that the reaction occurs between CO producing from the process of burning the diesel particulate in the filter and NO desorbed from the NOx trap is  $NO + CO \rightarrow 1/2N_2 + CO_2$ .

Application/Control Number: 10/075,036 Page 3

Art Unit: 3748

It is well known to those with ordinary skill in the art that the general reduction process of NO involving CO is governed by the expression: NO + CO  $\rightarrow$  1/2N<sub>2</sub> + CO<sub>2</sub>.

Regarding claim 31, Peter discloses all the claimed limitations as discussed in claim 30 above, however, fails to disclose generating  $CO_2$  from said CO according to  $O_2 + CO \rightarrow CO_2$ .

It is well known to those with ordinary skill in the art that the oxidation process of carbon monoxide (CO) in excess air of the lean burn diesel engine is governed by the expression:  $O_2 + CO \rightarrow CO_2$ .

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 8/6/04 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of a new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
